

An impressionistic painting depicting two women in white, ruffled dresses working in a room. The woman in the foreground is seated and focused on her work, while another woman stands behind her. The room features a window with a view of a street, a basket of fabric, and a framed picture on the wall. The overall style is soft and painterly, with visible brushstrokes and a warm, natural light.

Icono memoria

Héritage culturel
de Tournai

Photographies de Pierre Peeters

Portefolio n°2

CULTURA
MEMORIA